

CONSUMER INFORMATION

Rice University posts a number of important notifications on the Consumer Information page found on the Office of Financial Aid website (<https://financialaid.rice.edu/consumer-information/>). This includes notices related to campus fire safety and security (under the Clery Act), financial aid, disability or accommodations, student diversity, cost of attendance and net price, refunds, textbooks, transfer policies, copyright restrictions and protections, drug and alcohol abuse prevention, vaccination policies, timely warnings, student outcomes, equity in athletics, voter registration, and other important information.