The Center for Languages and Intercultural Communication (CLIC) provides opportunities for the development of:

- Communicative and interactional abilities in a second language through language analysis and language use
- Analytical, critical-thinking competence through the study of linguistic, social, and cultural aspects that define second language communicative-interactional abilities
- A broad educational experience (intercultural awareness and abilities) that will help students become productive members of a society in which multilingualism and multiculturalism are the norm rather than the exception

The Center for Languages and Intercultural Communication supports students pursuing language-related degrees in other departments, including Asian Studies (ga.rice.edu/programs-study/departments-programs/humanities/asian-studies), Classical and European Studies (ga.rice.edu/programs-study/departments-programs/humanities/classical-european-studies), History (ga.rice.edu/programs-study/departments-programs/humanities/history), and Spanish, Portuguese and Latin American Studies (ga.rice.edu/programs-study/departments-programs/humanities/spanish-portuguese-latin-american-studies).

While German intellectuals debated revolution in the lofty realm of letters, their French contemporaries took to the streets and staged a political revolution that culminated in the execution of their king.
