The Department of Modern and Classical Literatures and Cultures (MCLC) houses the Spanish and Portuguese program which focuses on the literatures and cultures of the Spanish and Portuguese-speaking world and on Spanish and Portuguese linguistics. The program stresses linguistic competence, interdisciplinary study, and a transnational perspective on Spanish, Latin American, and Brazilian literature and culture. In addition to courses on the novel, poetry, and the essay, the program also offers the opportunity to study film, art, cultural theory, translation, and gender. Qualified students may undertake independent work. Students in the program may pursue the BA degree with a major in Spanish and Portuguese. The department also offers a minor in Spanish and Portuguese.

SPPO 370 - DISABLED BODIES: ILLNESS AND LITERATURE IN LATIN AMERICA
Short Title: LATIN AMERICAN ILLNESS & LIT
Department: Modrn & Classicl Lit & Culture
Grade Mode: Standard Letter
Course Type: Lecture
Credit Hours: 3
Restrictions: Enrollment is limited to Undergraduate, Undergraduate Professional or Visiting Undergraduate level students.
Course Level: Undergraduate Upper-Level
Description: What is an illness? How do we define a sick body? How can literature, films and art convey suffering and healing? How do traditional histories of medicine structure sickness? Is there a perception—and representation—of illness that can be specific to Latin American culture? How does the Spanish language address issues of sickness, disability, and pain? This course will explore experiences of illness, suffering and pain through the readings of narratives, works of theory and criticism, and the writings of artists themselves. Discussions will place the narratives of illness in the intersections with the history of public health, biomedical history, and the sociocultural history of disease in Latin America. Within the framework of the Medical Humanities minor, students will learn to recognize the value and relevance of literature and writing to their personal, educational and professional growth. There is an experiential learning component, at Aishel House Houston, associated with the course. Taught in Spanish.
